REFLEXIVE VERBS

ME	myself
SE	yourself, himself, herself, itself
NOS	ourselves
SE	yourselves, themselves

The pronouns precede the verbs in all the different tenses. But when the infinitive stands alone the pronoun is added on to it to form one word.

PESARSE, to weigh yourself

PRESENT

ME PESO (I weigh myself)	NOS PESAMOS (we weigh ourselves)
SE PESA (you weigh yourself)	SE PESAN (you weigh yourselves)

PAST (PRETERITE)

ME PESÉ (I weighed myself)	NOS PESAMOS (we weighed ourselves)
SE PESÓ (you weighed yourself)	SE PESARON (they weighed themselves)

FUTURE

ME VOY A PESAR (I'm going to weigh myself)	NOS VAMOS A PESAR (we're going to weigh ourselves)
SE VA A PESAR (you're going to weigh yourself)	SE VAN A PESAR (they're going to weigh themselves)

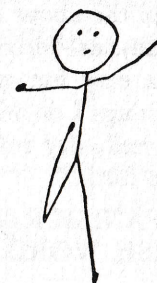

PRESENT PERFECT

ME HE PESADO (I have weighed myself)	NOS HEMOS PESADO (we have weighed ourselves)
SE HA PESADO (you have weighed yourself)	SE HAN PESADO (they have weighed themselves)

PRESENT PROGRESSIVE

ME ESTOY PESANDO (I am weighing myself)	NOS ESTAMOS PESANDO (we are weighing ourselves)
SE ESTÁ PESANDO (you are weighing yourself)	SE ESTÁN PESANDO (they are weighing themselves)

Verbs that are followed by "myself" are known as reflexive verbs. Reflexive verbs are verbs whose action is directed back upon the subject.

I kicked myself

The action is directed (reflects) back upon me. Therefore the verb is reflexive.

There are many more reflexive verbs in Spanish than there are in English. It is helpful to remember that many of the reflexive verbs that are commonly used in Spanish refer to a PHYSICAL action that is directed back upon the subject. Many of these physical verbs actually involve touching some part of your body.

EXAMPLES:

PHYSICAL VERBS THAT ARE REFLEXIVE

bañarse, to bathe (yourself, himself, herself, itself) lavarse, to wash (yourself)
 peinarse, to comb (yourself)
 secarse, to dry (yourself)
 afeitarse, to shave (yourself)
 pararse, to stand (yourself) up, to stop (yourself) quitarse, to take off (yourself)
 levantarse, to get (yourself) up ponerse, to put on (yourself)
 sentarse, to sit (yourself) down acostarse, to go (yourself) to bed
 *dormirse, to go (yourself) to sleep *vestirse, to dress (yourself)
 *desvestirse, to undress (yourself)

"Sentarse" and "acostarse" are radical changing.

*Don't try to use the verbs that are marked with asterisks. They have irregularities that will be presented in later lessons. These verbs have been included in the above list in order to give you a more complete concept of physical verbs that are reflexive. One of my pupils once said, "It's easy for me to remember reflexive verbs because they're the things I do when I'm getting ready for a party, such as bathe myself, dry myself, shave myself, comb myself, dress myself, and so forth."

SOMETIMES THE SPANISH REFLEXIVE IS EQUIVALENT TO THE ENGLISH WORD "GET."

EXAMPLES:

to get better	mejorarse (related to "mejor," better)
to get married	casarse (related to "casa," house)
to get tired	cansarse (related to "cansancio," fatigue)
to get ready	alistarse (related to "listo," ready)
to get sick	enfermarse (related to "enfermo," sick)
to get seasick	marearse (related to "mar," sea)
to get restless	inquietarse (related to "quieto," quiet)
to get exasperated	exasperarse (related to "exasperación")
to get enthusiastic	entusiasmarse (related to "entusiasmo," enthusiasm)
to get fat	engordarse (related to "gordo," fat)
to get drunk	emborracharse (related to "borracho," drunk)
to get close	acercarse (related to "cerca de," close to)
to get frightened	asustarse (related to "susto," fright)
to get cold	enfriarse (related to "frío," cold)

NOTE: "Resfriarse" means to catch cold.

PONER, to put, to set (the table), to lay (an egg)

PAST (PRETERITE)
PUSE (I put)	PUSIMOS (we put)
SE PUSO (you put)	SE PUSIERON (they put)

When "poner" is reflexive it becomes a physical verb and means "to put on."

PAST (PRETERITE)

PONERSE, to put on

ME PUSE (I put on)	NOS PUSIMOS (we put on)
SE PUSO (you put on)	SE PUSIERON (they put on)

Me puse el sombrero. I put on my hat.

Me lavé las manos. I washed my hands.

Notice that in the above sentences you do not say "my hat" or "my hands," but "the hat" and "the hands." YOU DO NOT USE POSSESSIVE ADJECTIVES AFTER REFLEXIVE VERBS.

We have covered three points in this lesson.

1. Physical verbs such as bathe, get up, shave, and wash are reflexive.
2. Reflexive verbs often are equivalent to the word "get" in English.
3. Possessive adjectives are not used after reflexive verbs.

REFLEXIVE VERB EXERCISE

SAMPLE VERB

BAÑARSE, to bathe (yourself)

PRESENT

ME BAÑO	NOS BAÑAMOS

USES OF REFLEXIVE VERBS

1. "Ponerse a" means "to start to" (to put yourself to). It is used with the infinitive.

Me puse a cantar. I started to sing.

3 Se puso a llorar. He started to cry.

33 Se pusieron a trabajar. They started to work.

"Ponerse" also means "to become" (to get) when it is followed by an adjective.

3 Se puso furioso. He got furious. He became furious.

3 Se puso pálido. He got pale. He became pale.

2. Sometimes reflexive pronouns are used instead of a subject.

EXAMPLES:

3 Se habla español. Spanish is spoken.

3 Se permite. It is permitted, allowed.

3 Se prohíbe. It is prohibited, forbidden.

3 Se necesita una criada. Wanted, a maid (A maid is needed).

The above sentences do not state who speaks, permits, needs, etc. Therefore the reflexive pronoun is used. These expressions are not frequently used in conversation. You'll find them mostly in signs such as "Se prohíbe fumar" (Smoking is forbidden) or in newspaper ads such as "Se necesita una criada" (Maid wanted).

3. The reflexive is also used in what we call reciprocal action, that is, when people do things to each other.

- Se besaron. They kissed each other.
 Nos vemos. We see each other.
 Se parecen. They resemble each other.
 No se hablan. They don't speak to each other.
 Se comprenden. They understand each other.

4. You have learned that "I'm going to the theater" is "Voy al teatro" and "He's going to the movies" is "Va al cine." When you don't say where you're going all forms of the verb "ir" become reflexive. Sometimes you use the word "away" in English when you don't say where you are going: "I'm going away."

IRSE, to go (away)

PRESENT		PAST
ME VOY	NOS VAMOS	ME FUÍ	NOS FUIMOS
Se va	Se van	Se fue	Se fueron

Me fui con Roberto. I went (away) with Robert.

Se fue solo. He went (away) alone.

Me voy. I'm going (away).

¿Por qué se fue? Why did you go (away)?

"Ya" means "already, now," and it's used very much with the different forms of "ir."

Ya me voy. I'm going now.

Ya se va. He's going now.

Ya nos vamos. We're going now.

Ya se van. They're going now.

Ya se fue. He's already gone (left).

LIST OF REFLEXIVE VERBS

LLAMARSE, to be called

Me llamo Elena. I'm called Helen (My name is Helen).

¿Cómo se llama? How are you called (What's your name)?

Se llama Carlos. He's called Charles (His name is Charles).

"Llamar" means "to call" when it isn't reflexive and "to be called" when it is reflexive.

QUEDARSE, to stay

Me quedé con Luis. I stayed with Louis.

Nos quedamos en el club. We stayed at the club.

CAERSE, to fall, to fall down

Me caí. I fell down.

Se cayó. He fell down.

PARECERSE, to resemble, to look like

Se parece a su mamá. He resembles his mother (He looks like his mother).

Me parezco a mi tío. I resemble my uncle (I look like my uncle).

CEPILLARSE, to brush (hair, teeth, clothes)

Me cepillé los dientes. I brushed my teeth.

Se cepilló el pelo. She brushed her hair.

METERSE, to put yourself into, to get yourself into Me metí en un lío. I got myself into a scrape (a mess).

SENTARSE, to sit down (radical changing)
Me siento en el sofá. I sit on the sofa.
③ Se sentó en el asiento. He sat down on the seat
(in the theater, plane, train).
③ Se sentó en el sillón. He sat down on the armchair.
③ Se sentaron en las sillas. They sat down on the chairs.

ACOSTARSE, to go to bed (radical changing)
Me acosté tarde. I went to bed late.
Siempre me acuesto temprano. I always go to bed early.

ACORDARSE, to remember (radical changing)
Me acuerdo. I remember.
③ ¿Se acuerda? Do you remember?

DESHACERSE DE, to get rid of. This verb comes from "hacer" and is conjugated like "hacer" (to do, to make).

ATREVERSE, to dare

QUEJARSE, to complain

PORTARSE, to behave yourself
③ Se porta bien. He behaves.
③ Se portó mal. He misbehaved.

ENTERARSE, to find out

PONERSE, to put on (clothes), to set (sun), to become (plus any adjective)
Me puse el traje. I put on my suit.
③ ¿A qué hora se puso el sol? At what time did the sun set?
③ Carlos se puso furioso. Charles got furious
(Charles became furious).

DARSE CUENTA, to become aware of, to find out, to discover
(to give yourself account)
Me di cuenta. I found out.
③ Se dió cuenta. He found out.

EQUIVOCARSE, to make a mistake, to be mistaken
Me equivoqué. I made a mistake.
Si no me equivoco. If I'm not mistaken.

RASCARSE, to scratch
③ El mono se rascó la cabeza.
The monkey scratched his head.

RESBALARSE, to slip, to slide
Me resbalé en el hielo. I slipped on the ice.

ESCAPARSE, to escape, to get away
Me escapé de la fiesta. I got away from the party.

IMAGINARSE, to imagine
Me imagino que llegó esta noche.
I imagine that he arrived tonight.

BAJARSE (DE), to get down, to get off vehicles
③ Se bajó del tren. He got off the train.

SUBIRSE (A), to get up on, to climb, to get on vehicles
③ Se subió al árbol. He climbed the tree.
③ Se subió al avión. He got on the plane.

APURARSE, to hurry
③ ¿Por qué no se apura? Why don't you hurry?

ALEGRARSE (DE), to be glad
Me alegro de verlo. I'm glad to see you.

DESQUITARSE (DE), to get even, to retaliate
Hay que gozar mucho para desquitarse de la vida.
("Hay que" means "one must.")
One must enjoy much to get even with life.

VERSE, to appear, to look (in appearance)
③ Se ve muy bien. He looks very well.
③ Se ve mejor. He looks better.

RUBORIZARSE, to blush, to flush

VOLVERSE, to become ③ Se volvió loco. He went (became) crazy.

CUIDARSE, to take care of yourself, to be careful § Se va a cuidar. He's going to take care of himself.

PERDERSE, to get lost
 § Se perdió. You, he, she, it got lost.

In the future form the pronoun can go either after or before the verb. Use whichever seems more comfortable to you.

EXAMPLES:

I'm going to weigh myself.	{	Voy a pesarme.
		or
You're going to weigh yourself.	{	Me voy a pesar.
	{	Va a pesarse.
		or
We're going to weigh ourselves.	{	Se va a pesar.
	{	Vamos a pesarnos.
		or
They're going to weigh themselves.	{	Nos vamos a pesar.
	{	Van a pesarse.
	{	Se van a pesar.

Once in a while you will hear a Spanish-speaking person say, "Estoy pesándome," thereby adding the pronoun to the present participle. This is correct, but of less frequent use than the construction where the pronoun precedes both verbs: Me estoy pesando.
